Ed's gotten several ER drafts to me since Friday and he's closing in on a final. I provided some comments on the latest today. It looks to me like he should be done this week. So I think we will be ready to submit early next week. I'm also working on some fine-tuning of the map this week, including adding all the APNs I used in the legal boundary description.

Also, an early heads up - I will be out of the office from approx Jul 1 - July 15 and will be completely off the grid for significant parts of the trip. This is my annual non-working trip, although I'll answer emails or calls when able. Exact dates still in flux; might vary by a few days on either end. I'll email as usual when dates are set.

Warmest regards,
